THE GAZETTE.

MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 27.

Boys.-American boys are expected to become manly men. The mother of every boy is expected to teach him to be obedient to parental authority, to the civil law; and to acquire an education, a business, a trade, or an art, something for which he may be best adapted, and by which he may obtain an honest living. This is a privilege, nay more—it is a duty—a duty to self, to family, to friends, to the State, and to the nation? When this is done, society has a guaranty for the good conduct and usefulness of each of her sons. When it is neglected, and boys grow up in ignorance and idleness society is taxed for their support, either in her reformatories, her jails, hospitals, or asylums. How much cheaper it would be to have every boy properly educated, trained and disciplined, so that he would be a blessing instead of a curse to the world. He is sure to become one or the other. - Science of Health.

LANGUAGE AMONG ANIMALS.—M. Houzeau maintains that not only does each group of animals possess a language which is understood by other members of the same group, but that they can understand the language of other groups.
His dogs, for instance, perfectly understood his poultry. Cocks and hens have one danger signal for the approach of a bird of prey, another for that of a terrestrial animal or for a man. When the latter was sounded the dogs would rush out and bark, while to the former they paid no attention whatever. He therefore concludes that fowls have the power of expressing slightly different but closely allied ideas, and dogs can learn to understand these differences. -Scribner's.
